A MINER NAMED BRONSON SUI-CIDED YESTERDAY.

The Demented Victim Was Employed By John P. Olson Up Big Cottonwood Canyon.

Meager particulars reached The Herald last night of a suicide at a mine up Big Cottonwood canyon, about a mile from Argenta Long after nightfall D. R. Maxfield arrived at the Big Cotton wood power house and telephoned to Votes—Presidency and Speaker-ship Candidates—M. S. Wooley to Be Chief Deputy Sheriff—Notes.

the sheriff for instructions in the prem-ises. Mr. Maxfield was directed to call upon the nearest justice of the peace, upon the nearest justice of the peace, whose duty it would be to proceed to view the remains and, with a jury, view the remains and, with a jury, hold an inquest.

According to the statement telephoned in by Mr. Maxfield a miner by the name of Bronson, employed by John P. Olson in the development of a tunnel on the mountain side, about seven miles up from the Big Cottonwood power house, cut his throat late yesterday afternoon. Shortly before the tragic occurrence, Mr. Olson left his employee working in the mine at a point about 100 feet in. He returned bis employee working in the mine at a point about 100 feet in. He returned in a few minutes horrified to find that Bronson had made a fatal gash in his threat with a knife.

Bronson, it is said, was considered sightly demented, but his mental condition was not deemed dangerous to himself or others.

Further particulars of the occurrence or anything additional pertaining to the seeded; plain instructions and works.

or anything additional pertaining to the identity of the miner who committed the act of self-destruction, were not obtainable last night.

INDIAN AGENCY CASE.

Winns and Burgess To Be Tried For Stealing.

Dennis A. Winn, John Winn and W. J.

Dennis A. Winn, John Winn and W. J. Burgess will be tried in the federal court on the charge of stealing goods from the Ouray Indian agency, June 2 1898, the indictment having been found by the grand jury before addournment. The two Winns have been held for several months on the charge, having been bound over to the grand jury by Commissioner J. T. McConneil at Fort Duchesne. W. J. Burkess was arrested yesterday by Deputy Marshal Smyth at Price.

Burgess was a government employee and had the keys to the commissary building. It was known that stuff had been stolen, but no doors or windows were broken. Finally some Indians saw a wagon leave the building one night. They reported the matter to the agency, and the upshot of the matter was that the Winns were found in possession of the wagon, filled with about 83 worth of provisions, powder and clothing. The wagen had been borrowed by Burgess from some Indians, and it was known also that he was grubstaking the Winns on a mining proposition.

They will plead in the federal court Monday.

Judge Marshall set the case of B. Y. Hampton, a voluntary bankrupt, for final hearing on petition, Dec. 29.

Taken Under Advisement. In the federal court yesterday after-noon, the case against Barney Eckstein, noon, the case against Barney Eckstein, Albert Davis and Ed Noe, for filegal liquor selling, was called. Defendants were represented by Ferguson & Cannon, who promptly demurred to each of the indictments, on the ground that in one case the date upon which the offense is alleged to have been committed is not named, and in every instrument the kind of liquor sold is not specified. Mr. Ferguson argued the demurrer for his clients and C. O. Whittemore opposed, contending that the law is not technical on the matter of specification.

Judge Marshall took the demurrer under advisement, ordering the defendants to appear at 10 octock today.

R. B. Shepard's chances for the speakership of the house, his friends claim, are good. He is not paying much attention to it himself, but when the legislators begin to come in he will get around more lively. W. M.
